ON THE FARM...

Late winter into early spring is the sloppiest time of the year. As the snow melts the ground can't absorb all the moisture at once. Things tend to get a bit muddy around the farmyard. We're looking forward to getting the cattle on pasture again - about 50 days to go... but who's counting?!

We are looking forward to seeing scenes like this soon... - Toby and the cows on pasture.

We're counting the bales of hay remaining in inventory and hoping there will be enough to last. This cold, snowy winter has caused an increase in the use of hay and bedding.

We have had two calves born so far (a bull and a heifer) and have five more ready to freshen (have a calf) in the next two weeks. Pat Daninger

WHAT'S NEW?

Autumnwood Beef Jerky, Beef Sticks and Summer Sausage are delicious and for sale at our farm store.

Back by popular demand! Eggnog for Easter

Our pumpkin spice eggnog will be available at the farm store and participating retailers for the two week period preceding Easter Sunday.

DID YOU KNOW...?

~ Cattle have no upper front teeth.

~ Dairy cows, like other mammals, must give birth before they can produce milk.

~ Mature cows will drink about a bath tub full of water every day.
