ON THE FARM...

Staying in Touch

It has been a while since our last newsletter.

Here are a few highlights of happenings:

County Fair Highlight: Autumnwood Davis Bacon, exhibited by Mariah Daninger, was named Grand Champion of the Open Class Holstein Show and 4-H Dairy Show.

State Fair Highlight: Erin Daninger officially became a "butterhead". Having been named a finalist for Princess Kay of the Milky Way, she had her likeness carved in butter. That sculpture will be on display at the 2012 Autumnwood Farm-City Day next June. Check out her "Thoughts of a Farmer's Daughter" at <http://edaninger.blogspot.com>.

Farm Highlight: All the crops are harvested and the cows are still outdoors enjoying the beautiful dry fall days and cool nights. Nathan Daninger along with some football teammates and other friends enjoyed MEA break from school by loading and stacking away 2400 small square bales of shredded canary grass hay, which we will use to bed animals during the next several months. Pat Daninger

WHAT'S NEW?

EGG NOG IS HERE!
OUR PUMPKIN SPICE
EGG NOG WILL BE AVAILABLE NOW
THROUGH NEW YEAR'S DAY.

Autumnwood milk is now available at Kowalski's Market on Lyndale Avenue in Minneapolis and at Cub Foods Maplewood, west of Highway 36 and Rice Street.

DID YOU KNOW?

Autumnwood milk that returns unsold from stores is used to feed our baby calves. Last year we had a group of older calves and an excess supply of chocolate milk, which must be their favorite, because when we ran out and fed them skim milk they turned up their noses and walked away from it! There's no need to cut back purchasing our milk, we will make sure they are well fed.
